Saturday 10/5/2024

Writing Terror Panel with Daniel Kraus, Clémence Michallon & Paul Tremblay

10:30 am–11:30 am

Saratoga Springs City Center, Room 2a

New York Times Bestselling Author and Bram Stoker Award Winner Paul Tremblay (Horror Movie: A Novel) joins bestselling authors Daniel Kraus (Pay the Piper) and Clémence Michallon (The Quiet Tenant) to talk about their newest books and the art of creating psychological thrillers. Paul Bogaards moderates.

Saving Democracy: A Conversation with Corey Brettschneider & Beau Breslin

10:30 am–11:30 am

Saratoga Springs City Center, Room 2b

With just weeks to go until the presidential election, two experts in constitutional law and politics, Corey Brettschneider (The Presidents and the People: Five Leaders Who Threatened Democracy and the Citizens Who Fought to Defend It) and Beau Breslin (A Constitution for the Living: Imagining How Five Generations of Americans Would Rewrite the Nation's Fundamental Law), explain what's at stake and how citizens have previously stood up for democracy.

Confronting the Patriarchy: A Conversation with Novelists Jill Bialosky & Helen Schulman

12:00 pm–1:00 pm

Saratoga Springs City Center, Room 2a

Jill Bialosky (The Deceptions) and Helen Schulman (Lucky Dog) explore the themes of motherhood, desire, rage, betrayal, and violation. They introduce their new novels and speak about how the Patriarchy has defined and shaped our culture—including the literary arts—and the desire to map a new way forward. Moderated by Ellen Beal.

Historical Romance Panel with Elizabeth Everett, Adriana Herrera & Joanna Lowell

12:00 pm–1:00 pm

Saratoga Springs City Center, Room 2b

Adriana Herrera (An Island Princess Starts a Scandal), Elizabeth Everett (The Love Remedy), and Joanna Lowell (A Shore Thing) share how their historical novels are informed by womanist, BIPOC, and Queer history and their thoughts on why the romance genre doesn't get the respect it deserves.

YA Novels to Adult Fiction with Cecily von Ziegesar & Mai Corland

2:00 pm–3:00 pm Saratoga

Springs City Center, Room 2b

What's it like to write for adult audiences after penning books for teens? Cecily von Ziegesar, the #1 New York Times bestselling author of the Gossip Girl series shares some of the unique challenges she faced writing Cobble Hill: A Novel in a session with Mai Corland, who wrote for teens and tweens before publishing her adult fantasy novel Five Broken Blades this year.

Black Into the Future: Science Fiction & Fantasy by Black Authors with Jaye Austin Williams & Shawntelle Madison

2:00 pm–3:00pm

Saratoga Springs Public Library, Dutcher Room

For scholar Jaye Austin Williams, reading Black Science Fiction has long been a portal into the intergenerational impact of racial slavery, violence, and injustice. She shares her thoughts about the future imagined by Octavia Butler and several other Black Science Fiction writers with Shawntelle Madison, whose new historical fiction debut novel The Fallen Fruit is a sweeping multi-generational epic about a woman who travels through time to end a family curse that has plagued her ancestors for generations.

This program was funded by a generous re-grant from Saratoga Arts and organized by Our Lodge Foundation, Inc., a Saratoga Springs community non-profit supporting our minority populations through cultural, educational, civic, and creative programs.

SUNDAY 10/6/2024

Nonfiction: Critical and Personal with Melora Wolff & Jay Rogoff

11:30 am–12:30 pm

Embassy Suites, Skidmore Room

Personal essayist Melora Wolff and poet-critic Jay Rogoff read from their current books and interview each other about the varieties and challenges of writing their brands of nonfiction. Melora Wolff's brand-new essay collection, Bequeath (LSU Press, 2024), presents a flawed, funny, impressionable narrator who tries to solve the mysteries of bequeathed artifacts, family myths, and haunting mistakes, while figuring out how to grow up in dangerous, glamorous 1970s New York City. Jay Rogoff's book about poetry, Becoming Poetry: Poets and Their Methods (LSU Press, 2023), winner of the Lewis P. Simpson Award for literary criticism, explores what makes a poet's work endure and also shares his own experience as a poet and reader.

History and Today: Breaking Glass Ceilings on Wall Street with Paulina Bren & Daphne Uviller

12:15 pm–1:15 pm

Saratoga Springs Public Library, Dutcher Room

As engaging as it is enraging, Paulina Bren's The Untold Story of the She-Wolves of Wall Street is an illuminating deep dive into the collision of women, finance, and New York. Joining Bren on stage is Daphne Uviller, author of the novel This Was Not the Plan.

Fiction Headliner

Liz Moore in Conversation with Joe Donahue

1:30-2:30 pm

Universal Preservation Hall

The New York Times bestselling author Liz Moore shares her ambitious and riveting new novel The God of the Woods in a conversation with Joe Donahue, a nationally acclaimed host and interviewer of the Nationally Syndicated "Book Show" and WAMC Radio's "The Roundtable." Named one of Barack Obama's favorite summer reads of 2024, Moore's latest tale of suspense is about family secrets and a child who goes missing from an Adirondack camp.
